6. SWIMMING POOLS AND WELLNESS CENTRES

Water is an element that can directly spread infections and can act as a vehicle for organic and inorganic substances. Fungi, viruses and bacteria can be harboured in pools as well as in baths, sinks, showers and changing rooms, potentially exposing guests to the risk of infections of various kinds. In order to have a swimming pool and wellness centre that is safe and free from infection, it is essential to use high quality, tested products. Sochil Chimica creates products that are suitable for all types of pool or bath, products for cleaning towels and filters, flocculant and de-scaling products, as well as degreasing agents that remove metals and limescale and are essential to keep water crystal-clear
